REAL LIVES TRANSFORMED...

MEET Josey

Josey has been blind since birth. Just like so many other visually impaired teens, Josey has faced many obstacles. Today, Josey is an honor roll, college-bound 10th grader. She recently went on a school trip to Disney World. Josey is a self-taught musician who loves to play her ukulele and compose songs. Thanks to Future in Sight – and donors like YOU – Josey now holds the keys to a successful and fulfilling life inside and outside of the classroom.

MEET Joan

Joan has been independent her entire life. And she was determined to continue that despite her deteriorating vision. Joan quickly realized that she couldn't do it on her own. With help from Future In Sight's vision rehabilitation specialists and monthly peer support groups, she built the confidence she thought she lost. Joan learned that even with blindness she can adapt and continue living independently.
